

executive officers of these corporations. So, we want to give an incentive to these individuals to purchase these vehicles. It would be good if we could get them to purchase the vehicles in Omaha or at least the State of Nebraska. Since they want the Legislature to do so much to keep them here, they should be willing to spend some of their money with Nebraska operations. But this Legislature, for some reason, is taking a very anti-business attitude and I can't understand it. Maybe Mike Harper is right. The environment in this Legislature is very anti-business. Every amendment that I have offered is designed to give something to these business executives and the Legislature continues to refuse and I think the Legislature ought to be severely chastised for that. But I want to share with you a little bit of information that came to me. There are people in towns like Nebraska City and Norfolk who actually watch what the Legislature does. And while I was engaged in serious discussion with one of my colleagues, another of my colleagues answered my phone for me and it was my office, and people are making calls and they like what I am doing, the people. They say those other guys won't speak up for the little guy, and one lady, one lady said that we ought to go ahead and give it all away as these amendments are attempting to do because they're getting it anyway and they are, these corporations. So maybe what you all need to do while you're sitting here getting all mad at me, some of you, lips poked out like you've got snuff in them, eyes getting glazed, hearts palpitating, you don't want to do that. Johnny Cash got into one of those irregular heartbeat patterns and they had to take him off the stage in Council Bluffs. Do you all remember that? And what was one of the most famous songs he sang, now he takes it seriously, "I Keep A Close Watch on This Heart of Mine." He definitely does that now and that would be good advice for everybody in the...Senator Landis says it wasn't that funny. Touche. That would be good advice for everybody on the floor of the Legislature. The time for a message to be given is at a time when it can have most impact. So if people feel stressed, and I don't like, by the way, language to be changed in that fashion, when people feel stressed there should never be an e-d on the end of stress when you are talking about how people feel. But when people feel in a stressful situation, they should consciously take note of what it is they are feeling and realize that that feeling of stress only works against them and against their health. When there is an individual creating that stress, you do not hurt that individual by being angry. You help that individual because Jesus said, and we know how wise he was, anger resteth in the bosom of a fool. So we don't want to be
